and all praised Tracing Your Family History in Hertfordshire (Hertfordshire Archives and Local Studies (Hals)):

This practical and comprehensive guide provides an introduction to family historians to trace their ancestors in Hertfordshire. Every aspect of our ancestors' lives has been considered, from their birth and baptism to their death and burial. Examples of source material, together with photographs and drawings from the collections at Hertfordshire Archives Local Studies, illustrate the text.

About the Author Hertfordshire Archives and Local Studies is the publicly funded archive and library of material relating to the history of the county of Hertfordshire, England. It is part of the Hertfordshire County Council and is staffed by archivists and librarians experienced in advising family historians on the use of their collections. Margaret Ward is the editor of Hertfordshire People, the journal of the Hertfordshire Family History Society. Ward has for many years edited the genealogy titles on Countryside Books' list. She is the editor of the magazine produced by her local Family History Society and has devoted much of her free time to researching her own family tree.
