The world is smaller now, than ever before. The information age has been thrown into overdrive... and now, your personal information and most intimate secrets can be dredged from the data sea floor with the mere push of a button.

To many, this concept of living in a digital glass house is unsettling. It's like knowing that you are being watched, yet aren't sure who is doing the watching. The feeling produces a frozen chill that creeps up the spine, paralyzes the mind, and burdens the heart. Is the watcher a generally upstanding, good person ...or is such an entity doing so with malevolent, criminal, or tyrannical intent? When faced with such a feeling, most simply decide to ignore their deep down, gut feeling. However, it's the smart ones who pay attention when the slightest hint of a shiver creeps over them. And what do they do next? They turn around and identify the watcher. And after these watchers are named (identity thieves, corporations, and government entities), Underground Privacy Secrets will also show you how to avoid their gaze and become extremely difficult to find, surveil, or track entirely. The invasion of privacy always presages the invasion of your property, liberty, and your life. So, don't wait. Learn how to protect your privacy, identity, and freedom in an increasingly unfree world... with Underground Privacy Secrets.
